MRS. JANE WARRINER DEAD.

Was Ninety-seven Years Old and Came to Indiana in 1823.

Mrs. Jane Wariner, ninety-seven years old, died of senile exhaustion, at 4:30 o'clock this morning at the home of her grandson, Israel P. Wariner, a grocer, at 1219 Madison avenue. Mrs. Wariner's mind was bright and active until the last few days, and she remembered hundreds of dates and instances during her long and eventful life. She was known to her friends as Aunt Jane.

Mrs. Wariner was much interested in politics, and paid more than ordinary attention to all campaigns. She was an ardent Republican, and knew the history of the party better than do many of its active members. She lived through all the presidential administrations except two.

Mrs. Wariner was born in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, December 14, 1804, and, in 1821, married Edward Houston, who died five years later. Early in 1828, accompanied by her husband and infant son, she made the trip down the Ohio river from Pittsburg to Cincinnati in a flatboat. From there she walked to Greensburg, Ind., a distance of about sixty miles, and carried her son all the way. The trip was made by way of the "bladed-tree route." There was no road through the unbroken country, and the way was marked by blazed trees.

In 1831 she was married to Franklin W. Wariner, who died the following year. Much of Mrs. Wariner's life was spent in Greensburg. When she first went there only one building was standing. It served as a court house, school, church and inn. She joined the Presbyterian church in that place and remained a member throughout her life. The funeral will be held in Greensburg to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

NEWS WINONA FRESH AIR CAMP.

August 3.—Miss Alice Graydon, of Indianapolis, who is in charge of the fresh air camp, felt the pulse of the campers last night. All of the boys and girls were lined up. She asked:

"Are you having a good time?"

"Bet yer life!" was a general reply.

"What do you like to do best?"

"Go swimming!"

"Do you want to go home Monday?"

"No! no! no!" came the replies—a hundred "noes" to one "yes."

At a business meeting of the Winona Fresh Air Society this morning it was decided that only one more party—the News party of girls coming Monday—would be entertained this year, and Chicago and other cities will have to wait till next season. The nights will begin to get too cool in two weeks. The society's report since that it couldn't camp equipment, except a big dining tent, has been purchased this year, and the cost has been raised already. There are some outstanding subscriptions, and the rest of the money will be forthcoming as soon as the demand is made. The Indianapolis Y. M. C. A.'s big tent has saved the purchase of the dining tent this season. Another $500 will be necessary next year to perfect the camp equipment.

THE GIRLS' NEWS-WINONA EXCURSION.

Train Will Leave Indianapolis Monday at 11:15 A. M.
—Party Will See Returning Boys at Warsaw.

Preparations for the second Indianapolis News-Winona excursion, which will leave Monday morning over the Big Four for the lake, are being pushed, and the children (all girls) are providing themselves for their trip. Many of those going have practically to be equipped with new apparel, and many require shoes. The corps of Secretary Grout, of the Charity Organizations Society, is visiting those who are to go, and making them ready.

Practically the same arrangements for the transportation of the children will be followed as for the last trip. A special car will be furnished by the Big Four, and this will be taken at 11:15 Monday morning to Warsaw. The party of girls and mothers will reach Warsaw as the south-bound train leaves for Indianapolis with the 100 children and mothers, who are now at The News fresh air camp. The two parties will have an opportunity to see each other. The camp will be restocked with provisions for the ten days the new camping party will stay. This stock is now being prepared for shipment.

woods. There are many wild birds and animals in it. There is a large lake on which steamboats run; there is fine fishing in it.

"We played the W. C. B. baseball team one game, in which we were defeated by a score of 22 to 13. But we played big boys."

"We go to bed at half-past 8 and get up at 6. There are many springs of mineral water here."

"Every night we have a large camp fire. We have three colored coons. We have five mice. We have five times catching frogs and turtles, and also fish. There are six beds in our tent."

"We all have names in our tents. Ours is the Eagle. We go bathing every day. There are 100 women and boys and nine babies in camp."

"On Sunday we had a Sunday-school meeting on the hill. Mr. Hall is superintendent of the Sunday-school."

"Several of the larger boys are making a piece of money. They catch frogs and sell them to Warsaw meat dealers. Some of them have made big hauls. Others catch minnows for sale."

"The Baby Didn't Know Her."

A little vacationer sent out by The News has just finished her two weeks' outing with Dr. Rusey, of Mace, Ind. Although the invitation was generously extended for two weeks, she was needed at home. That she came back obviously benefited by fresh air and wholesome food, the following letter is sufficient proof:

"To the Editor of The News:

"Sir—Please accept my sincere thanks for the kindness shown my daughter in taking her to the country. She has had a fine time. They said she had everything to eat she could think of, and all she had to do was to eat and play. She was so fat the baby didn't know her. The doctor and his wife were so good to her, and she would have loved to stay in the country, if we could all be there with her. This has been a happy vacation for me, and I am so thankful to The News and to the good family that had her, and hope that all of the children that have homes in the country have had. Thanking The News, I remain,

ALL THE VIRTUES OF MALT ARE FOUND IN MALT BREAKFAST FOOD

Some people use malt in liquid form for building up the system; this is unwise, as the virtues of the malt are immediately spoiled by admixture of fermented liquid. To obtain the great health and strength yielding virtues of malt, it should be eaten in its natural state, combined with the perfect food grain, wheat. Malt Breakfast Food is a health combination of both, easy to digest, delicious, and recommended by thousands of physicians and all grocers.

MINISTERS' DAY.

The Indiana Association gives the Program at Bethany Park.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

BETHANY PARK, Ind., August 8.—The program to-day was in the interest of the Indiana Christian Ministerial Association, the second oldest organization of its kind, it having been formed in 1838. ### GREAT SCARCITY OF LABOR.

Many Valuable Improvements Are Virtually at a Standstill.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

BLAIZAK, Ind., August 8.—The scarcity of laborers, which has delayed public and private contracts in this section for many months, is found to be general. Men are paid the highest wages, and yet many proposed improvements are at a standstill. The building of the great mill dam in the St. Joe between here and Mishawaka, is delayed on account of the lack of sufficient men, there not being over 100 men now employed on the work. The Chicago and Western Indiana railroad has given notice that it will want several thousand men during the next few months for the construction of a new line. Today an Elkhart gentleman was notified by a firm of railway construction contractors that 1200 more men were badly needed in California.

He was blind from infancy, and was a graduate of the State Blind Institute at Indianapolis, and a provisioner. He had been all over this and other states, riding the railways and conducting a small business. He was attended by the nearest train with great skill. He was considered a remarkable person for a blind man.

Remarkable Attendance of Relatives.

ANDERSON, Ind., August 8.—The burial of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Rector, wife of a pioneer farmer, was somewhat remarkable in this respect: Mrs. Rector was the mother of ten children, and she had seven or eight grandchildren, thirty-eight great-grandchildren, and a number of other relatives who were married. All of the relatives came to the funeral, which was attended by the funeral home, and the relatives alone filled the house.

PART OWNERS OF NEW YORK

A WOMAN CLAIMS PROPERTY WORTH A HUNDRED MILLION.

PREPARING TO ENTER SUIT

What was Her Ancestors Farm a Century Ago is Now One of the Richest Sections of the City.

NEW YORK, August 9.—Rebecca Ann McDonald, of Binghamton, N. Y., is preparing to enter suit to recover property in this city, the value of which is estimated at $100,000,000. Two hundred and eighty property owners are said to be involved. The claims will be made under the will of Jacob T. Arden, who died in 1893. He owned what was then known as the Arden farm, situated on the east side of Manhattan island. At that time it was wild land, but it now is situated in the center of the most populous uptown district. Jacob Arden left a will leaving his property to his only son, Jacob S. Arden, but provided in the will that in the event his son died without issue the property should go to John Sumner, his nephew. It is asserted that John Sumner sold his contingent claim to Jacob S. Arden for $5,000, and believing that he had thus purchased the right to dispose of the property, Jacob Arden did so before he died a bachelor. It is on this issue that the claim of Rebecca McDonald is based. She claims to be a granddaughter of Jacob S. Arden.

SHARKS TOOK HIS LEG.

Quartermaster of the Annapolis Attacked While Swimming.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 8.—Admiral Kempf has forwarded to the Navy Department an official report, thrilling in its details, of the biting off of the leg of Quartermaster S. McKie by a shark or other mammoth sea monster. The Annapolis has been stationed of late at Hollar, and on June 24 last a party was sent out for rifle target practice. Commander Eber, in command of the Annapolis, states that permission was given to several of the men to go swimming, while others were engaged in firing. Two of the men had been in for some time when McKie joined them. He made a dive was gone for several seconds. A moment later McKie appeared on the surface and shouted "Shark's taken me!" The surface of the water was covered with blood near where he came up. McKie started to swim and, although crippled, reached the boat and was pulled in by his companions. A horrible sight met their eyes, the quartermaster's leg having been bitten off near the knee.

Pathetic Story of Italian Girl Deported by Government Authorities.

NEW YORK, August 9.—Antonia Paratona, a young Italian woman who landed in this country from Italy recently, has been deported on an order from Washington, notwithstanding the earnest protest of the ship's doctor. But homesickness attacked her, and she was despondent on an order from Washington, notwithstanding the earnest protest of the ship's doctor. When the girl reached New York she was very happy. ## Clearing Its Right-of-Way.

[Special to The Indianapolis News.]
CHARLESTOWN, Ind., August 8.—Section foremen on the Louisville division of the Baltimore & Ohio have received terms of lease of the land of the company along its tracks, to be signed by farmers who have been cultivating crops upon the right of way. As none of the farmers will sign the leases, this will have the effect of clearing the land near the track of rank vegetation.

Subscriber—Ask the city engineer, the various block paving companies and the various asphalt paving companies as to them out in the back yard in the shade and went ahead. One of the neighbors owns a camera, and while Bigley, with his pipe for consolation, was doing his best by the clothes, the neighbor took a snapshot at him. The neighbor threatened to send his photograph to his wife.

When Monday rolled around, there was no one to do the washing, and Bigley decided to do it himself. He had watched his mother wash, when he was a boy, and he knew that a tub, water, soap and a washboard were necessary. These he got, and in the early morning he put them out in the back yard in the shade and went ahead. One of the neighbors owns a camera, and while Bigley, with his pipe for consolation, was doing his best by the clothes, the neighbor took a snapshot at him. The neighbor threatened to send his photograph to his wife.

Mrs. Jones is fond of flowers, and in every available spot in her yard is a plant or bush, which she guards with jealous care from visiting dogs and absence of rain. She went East on a two months' visit to a son, and charged her daughter, an intelligent young woman, to take care of the flowers. It was the daughter's one anxiety to keep things growing and blooming, so that her mother would have no cause for complaint when she returned. Every morning and evening through the drought which has not yet ceased, the flowers were sprinkled, and the hose was hardly ever reaching time to the face of a watch. The registers divide into various denominations from units to thousands, and each ten of one makes one of the other. The gas company will show how to read it.

Clarkhill—Give a short biography of the Rev. Charles Frederic Goss, the author of "The Redemption of David Corson." He is the pastor of the Avondale Presbyterian church, of Cincinnati. For many years he was pastor of what is known as "Meadow church," in Chicago. He did notable work among the cowboys, and lived in Texas among the cowboys, and in the young State of Washington. He knows the old legends of the West as well as the mining camps of the West. He is a prodigious worker.

A. R.—When was the Brooklyn Bridge built, and by whom? The State city? A.—A bridge company was organized in 1867, with a capital of $2,000,000. It was built by the Brooklyn Bridge company, which was formed by the city of New York, and the city of Brooklyn. It was made a State work and placed in charge of a board of trustees. John A. Roebling, the originator of wire suspension bridges, was the engineer. He estimated the cost at $15,000,000. Changes in the design swelled the actual cost to nearly $15,000,000. The bridge was formally opened May 24, 1883.

INTERESTS OF THE WEST.

Corn Failure Has Not Seriously Affected Business.

NEW YORK, August 8.—The Journal of Commerce has collected opinions from leading bank officials and the principal dry goods and grocery houses of the West tending to show that business interests have not been seriously affected in that section as a result of the damage to corn by drought in the States of Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska. The reports in question, which the Journal of Commerce says will prove something of a surprise, are explained by the fact that it is generally believed that the effects of the drought upon corn, especially those forwarded while the drought was in full swing, were more or less exaggerated.

Continuing, the Journal of Commerce says: "The effects are quite numerous and important. Among them may be mentioned the unusually heavy harvest of winter wheat in all the States in question. This has already been secured and is not a matter of conjecture. Again, there is the large production of hay, and in connection with that may be noted the large forage crops, some now being planted, which are a guarantee that the farmers will be able to carry their stock cattle through regardless of the damage to and high price of corn.

FOOD PRICES ARE SOARING

MEATS AND VEGETABLES ARE AWAY UP IN COST.

A REMINDER OF WAR TIMES

Grocers and Boarding-House Keepers Agree that Even Then Prices Were No Higher Than They Are Now.

GROCCERS and boarding-house keepers are agreed that prevailing prices of vegetables and meats are higher than ever before known in Indianapolis at this season, not even excepting the war period. The boarding-house matron begins to fear that the state of affairs that came to pass in Richmond, Va., in the dark days of the rebellion—the days when people carried their money in a basket to the market and returned with their provisions in their pocketbooks—has all but arrived in Indianapolis. While the grocer disclaims this exaggeration, he admits that prices are sky-high, and, what is worse, that, high as they are, he finds no profit in them. Boarding-house keepers say that at present rates for board and that unless prices of produce fall soon, they will have to advance the cost of keep to their boarders.

While vegetables are scarce, poor and high in price, fruits are but little advanced over the prices usually prevailing at this time in the year. While potatoes sell at 35 cents a peck, a good-sized basket of fine Georgia peaches may be bought at the same price. Tomatoes sell at 10 cents a pound, 4 a bushel, which is somewhat above the price asked for oranges. Cucumbers, small and juiceless, retail at 10 cents each, instead of 5 to 10 cents at the same price. Lettuce in midwinter cabbage retained at 2 1/2 cents a pound, now 3 1/2 cents to 5 cents a pound.

Some other prices: Egg plant, 10 cents to 25 cents each; green corn, 20 cents a dozen, not 5 cents a dozen as at this time last year; lettuce, 15 cents a pound; green beans, 25 cents a quarter peck; onions, 40 cents a peck; new sweet potatoes, 15 cents a bushel; green apples, $1.50 to $2 a bushel; lemons, 15 cents to 25 cents a dozen; oranges, 50 cents to $1 a dozen; Kentucky peaches, 25 cents a bushel; peck basket; Kentucky Lombard plums, 50 cents a half peck basket; California silver plums, German prunes, red cross plums, Kelsey Japan plums, 15 cents a dozen, 75 cents a bushel; Bartlett's, 25 cents a bushel; Porto Rico pineapples, 20 cents to 30 cents a bushel; melons, 75 cents to $1 a bushel, or 5 cents to 10 cents each; Christmas, 15 cents to 20 cents each; watermelons, 15 cents to 20 cents each. Watermelons are coming in freely, and as the famous Jackson county melons appear in the market quality improves and prices will decline somewhat. Beets, carrots and turnips retail at two bunches for 5 cents. As 15 cents a dozen, are considered low in price.

BOY DROWNED.

Frank Trees Loses His Life in Howland's Pond.

Frank Trees, the eleven-year-old son of Mrs. Julia Trees, a widow, living at 224 LaSalle street, Brightwood, was drowned in Howland's pond, about a mile north of Thirtieth street, while bathing yesterday afternoon. Trees went to the pond with several other boys, including Raymond Bloom, of 284 Poultry street, and Ira Jones, who lives at LaSalle street. All the boys engaged in fishing, while Trees went in bathing. He disappeared and it was not until some time had passed that Jones and Bloom became alarmed and went in search of help. The other boys continued fishing.

Alva Avington, a teamster living in Thirtieth street, was notified and he went to the pond to investigate. After being shown Trees' clothes on the bank, and the last place the boy was seen, he waded about the pond for an hour or more before finding the body. The pond covers an area of about half an acre and is full of sink holes. It was in one of these holes that the body was found. The City Dispensary ambulance was called. The body will be taken to the morgue and buried to-morrow. Mrs. Trees is convalescing from an attack of typhoid fever, and there is fear that the shock will prove serious.
